

Treasury Department,

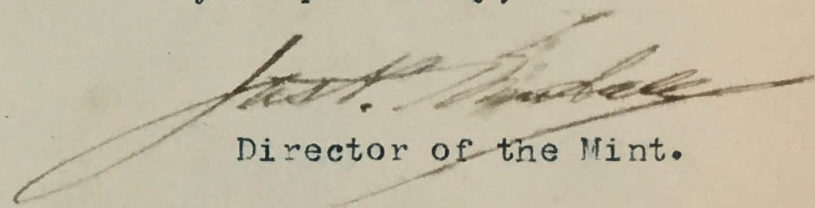

BUREAU OF THE MINT,

Washington, D. C., December 21, 1886

Sir:

You have my authority for availing yourself of the condition made with the several bidders on proposals for one-cent blanks, namely to increase the quantity from fifty thousand up to two hundred thousand pounds, and will so increase the quantity called for under the accepted contract that the amount shall be one hundred thousand pounds, instead of fifty thousand as expressed by the contract.

Very respectfully,

Director of the Mint.

Hon. Daniel M. Fox,

Superintendent U.S. Mint,

Philadelphia.
